

West Todd

Creative Director and Partner
Weathervane Games

Weathervane Games is excited to announce The Flamingo himself, Mr. West Todd is joining our team! Many of you know West from his time on Quackalope and, more recently, the Full 42. During his years on YouTube he nurtured a deep passion for the indie gaming space. He has helped to bring many smaller publishers to the forefront of the community. Most recently West spent the last year developing and marketing Rove with Addax Games helping them raise almost $500,000 on their recent Kickstarter. We are looking forward to drawing on West's experience and talents in the industry to help propel Weathervane Games toward being the innovative studio we created it to be.
